Home Inventory

People lose millions of dollars each year because they do not prepare for water damage, fire, burglary, or some other type of disaster. This form is designed to help you keep accurate records of your belongings so you can recover the maximum amount possible. Remember to keep a copy of this form inside your home and one outside your home. It would also be wise to take pictures of or video tape the contents of your home for additional proof. Also record your insurance policy information.
